Functionality combined with design – Emergency and safety lighting by RP-Technik

Rodgau, Germany, 18 March 2018. For the second time, escape sign luminaires from RP-Technik GmbH received the renowned German Design Award: In 2018, the escape sign luminaires of the new A-series were awarded in the category „Excellent Product Design, Lighting“.

Every year, a jury honours outstanding products and projects of the German and international design landscape. After the OLED escape sign luminaire in 2016, also the A-series from RP-Technik was awarded recently. The original wording of the jury statement: “The modular concept allows to realize different mounting solutions. But the basic design is always the same. So, you get an absolutely homogenous luminaire series. Easy installation and non-visible mounting parts such as screws define this product’s clear design.”

The A-series is a newly developed complete range of compact metal edge luminaires by RP-Technik GmbH. The luminaires are suitable for multiple mounting possibilities and available in white or anthracite metal housings. The entire series is designed in the same functional style and can be perfectly integrated in any surroundings.
